

Center for Middle Eastern Studies

Water Issues in the Jordan Valley and Beyond

Partial screening of Voice in the Valley followed by a discussion panel

Sharon Megdal, Director of the Water Resources Research Center and Professor, regularly works in conjunction with Jordanian officials on the water crisis in Jordan and Israel. She will present on the Red Dead Project.

Ramzi Touchan, Research Professor of Dendrochronology, will present his research on the drought in Jordan and compare it to a case study in the Mediterranean.

Gökçe Günel, Assistant Professor in MENAS who studies the anthropology of energy and climate change, will comment on the film and lead the discussion.

Monday, March 20, 2017
4pm in Haury 129

This event is free and open to the public.
(The Haury Bldg. is located at 1009 E. South Campus Dr.)

Co-sponsored by:

